

Launch of the Garnwen Trust Website

The Garnwen Trustees are pleased to announce the launch of their new website at garnwentrust.com. The site has been re-launched with the help and support of Mosaic Information Solutions and in particular one of the Company's principals Ian Picton, to whom the Trustees would like to extend their personal thanks and gratitude.

The launch of the new website coincides with the Trust recently achieving the milestone of raising over £100,000. This has been achieved by the overwhelming support of the people of the Maesteg and the wider Llynfi Valley and has allowed the Trust to accelerate the planning and building of their first project in the picturesque Afan Argoed Forestry Area. The project is currently being fully costed following planning consent being received. It is anticipated that building will commence in the autumn of 2012 or spring 2013, subject to next stage of planning and costing.

The Trustees are also delighted to announce that Laura Griffiths will be carrying the Olympic Torch in recognition of the work she has carried out on behalf of the Trust on Saturday May 26th in Nantymoel. The route of the torch can be found at www.london2012.com/olympic-torch-relay site.

The Trustees are also pleased to confirm the date of the 2012 Party in the Park on Sunday 20th May at Maesteg Welfare Park, Neath Road, Maesteg, starting at mid-day ending at 10 pm. Further information on this highly popular event will be made available shortly and posted on the website.

Richard Collins Chairman of the Garnwen Trust stated : On behalf of the Trustees many thanks are extended to all friends and supporters who have helped us achieve these notable milestones. We are hugely excited that the first project is now becoming a reality and are working toward a wider vision for the Trust to be involved in further projects which will benefit the local community. We will of course keep all our friends and supporters fully informed of developments with the Trust through the website and other social media platforms.

About the Garnwen Trust

The Garnwen Trust is a local South Wales based charity set up by the parents, family and friends of Alex Collins and Bethan Jones following their loss during a flight from Bangkok to Phuket, Thailand in 2007. Alex and Bethan were 3 days into the trip of a lifetime through Asia and Australia when they were amongst almost 90 people who lost their lives.

Since their loss the family, friends and the wider community in Maesteg and the Llynfi Valley, South Wales have set about creating a fitting and lasting legacy for Alex and Bethan. The initial target was to build and operate a facility for in the picturesque Afan Argoed Forestry area, an area renowned for walking, cycling and other outdoor activities near the town of Maesteg. The facility will be for the use of the wider public but specifically designed for use by disabled members of the community.

To date the Trust has raised over £100,000 towards the completion of its first project. Planning consents and building design are well underway and an initial date for completion in 2013 has been set. The successful completion of the facility will be the first of many projects planned by the Garnwen Trust.

The success of the Trust has been achieved through the overwhelming support and participation of the local community. In particular they have supported the two signature events developed by the Trust, notably the Walk for Al and The Party in the Park.

Furthermore the Garnwen Trust has received the support of the Admiral Insurance choir called Admiral Inspire. The choir has chosen the trust as their preferred charity in 2012 and have released a debut album currently available through iTunes and in CD format all proceeds from the album go to the Trust.

About Mosaic Information Solutions

Mosaic is a company based in Aberdeen and Guildford, with creative technical graphics and information management expertise at its core. The company was established in 1998 by Ian Picton to provide high quality, specialist support to the upstream oil and gas industry.

Our wide range of services encompasses web design, graphic design, cartography, and illustration. We are experts in data, document and information management. Our aim is simple; to use the depth of our industry experience to provide smart solutions and a first class, personal service. We are passionate about our products and services and have a real desire to exceed customer expectations.

25 March 2012